Imam al-Reza (A.S.) was sitting with one of his companions, named Sulayman, in a garden. The fragrance of the spring blossoms filled the garden and its surroundings, making every passer-by cheerful.

Looking around, Sulayman noticed a lonely sparrow. The bird flew from one branch to another, chirping loudly. What did the sparrow want to say? Had something happened to the bird, or did it want to play in this lovely spring weather?

Imam al-Reza (A.S.) was carefully watching the sparrow, too. Sulayman stood up to go towards the bird and scare it away. But the Imam (A.S.) didn't let him do that and said, "Do you know what this bird says?"

Sulayman replied in surprise, "No, my master!" Imam al-Reza (A.S.) said, "The sparrow told me that there is a snake which has gone near its nest to eat its chicks. The bird is asking me for help." Sulayman said, "What should be done now, my master?" The Imam (A.S.) replied, "Hurry up and help the bird." Sulayman started to run towards the bird's nest. The bird, which knew the Imam (A.S.) had understood what it meant, began to fly ahead of Sulayman to show him the way.

On reaching the wall of the garden, Sulayman saw the snake on the wall, and scared it away. Seeing this, the sparrow sighed with relief and rested in the nest with its dearest chicks and thanked God in its heart.

Yes. Only those who are God's Proof (Hujjah) and lead people as Imam with an authorization from God, have got such abilities and are able to have full scientific knowledge and even understand animals' tongues.
